TUNNEL WORK APPLIES

SECRETARY OF INTERIOR RE-VERSES HIMSELF.

The decision wired yesterday relative to mineral entry No. 2685 of the Mary Bell Fraction mining claim and min-eral entry No. 2686 of the Henley, Cactus, Ruth and the Henley Fraction mining claims by Barney B. Quinn et al., is a decision of great importance in this section of the country, as it will give several corporations and in-dividuals operating in the surrounding camps an opportunity to secure patents under conditions that have previously been denied them.

A large number of applications for patent to valuable mining claims have been denied on the grounds which are now reversed in the Quinn decision, among them being the Congor Gold & Copper Mining & Milling company's application for the American Boy, Bee No. 1, Bee No. 2, and the Buckeye; John T. Hodson's for the Cape Cod lode, Jessie Knight's for the Maggie S; the Silver King company's for the Lorseshoe; the Honorine Mining company's for the Texas; the Illinois Mining company's for the Manefay and Allie, and Allen G. Lamson's for the Lamson, Allen, and He'sne lodes.

The Barney B. Quinn et al. case mentioned involved valuable mining property which had been sold by Quinn et al. prior to application for patent to the Columbia Copper Mining company, of which W. S. McCornick and J. A. Cunningham are the principal owners. After final payment had been made and the cases came before the commissioner of the general to the expenditures on these claims necessary to obtain a patent was clearly erroneous and directed that the entries be held for cancellation.

A motion to review this decision was made, supported by affidavits stating that all the claims applied for were held in common and consisted of one actual mining claim, which was worked and developed by one system—the What Cheer tunnel, its branches and drifts. The commissioner of the general land office pointed out that the Mary Bell Fraction was covered by mineral entry No. 2685, and that no one of said claims, except the Henley, is within 200 feet of the nearest part of the said What Cheer lower tunnel, while the distance of the Ruth was 1,200 feet from it; and under the authority of the Copper Glance case, held that:

"Contiguous claims held in common are the only class of claims to which may be accredited or apportioned improvements made on one of them, or outside of them, for the joint benefit of all. Claims embraced in different entries, made it different times, and by different parties, as is the condition of the claims shown in the diagram, are not claims hel A large number of applications for patent to valuable mining claims have been denied on the grounds which are

For these reasons the motion for review was denied. From this decision an appeal was taken to the secretary of the interior, who sustained the commissioner, and practically held that the entries should Edwin W. Senior, the attorney for claimants, at this stage asked for a reconsideration of the secretary's decision, pointing out that a large expenditure had been made in good faith; that tional expense of making new applications was a hardship, and generally reargued the points involved, and it was under these circumstences that the secretary of the interior was induced to review his decision and hold that the claiments were entitled to patent. While the text of the secre-tary's decision will not reach here for several days, it would seem from the telegraphic report that all those who have previously been turned down will now have an opportunity to have their cases reinstated.

MAY DAY INCREASES. A Larger Output Has Been Decided Upon.

Manager John A. Hunt of the May Day appeared at his offices again yesterday after a couple of days underground at the mine. He reported the condition of the mine to be such that it was decided to increase the force and begin production at a greater rate. The last car of ore was marketed Friday, and three more are promised for tomorrow. At just what rate he in-tended to ship in future he was not prepared to say, but there is little or doubt that the accustomed two cars a week will be more than doubled. The mine is looking exceedingly well on the 100 level, and good progress with de-velopments is reported on the 200 also. Yesterday President Harrell of the Crown Milling company, accompanied by S. W. Mosby, went out to see how work was progressing at the new mill, the completion of which means so much to the May Day company. With that plant in operation the milling ores fan be more readily disposed of, and the mining of first-class will be made that

TINTIC OPERATIONS.

Great Activity and Promising Developments. Eureka, March 9.-With the passing of the snow and the coming of fair weather, mining operations in Tintic are beginning to boom, and men able to swing a hammer and twist a drill are in demand. The past week has witnessed the closing of several deals and the opening of negotiations for the consummation of others of momentous consequence to the camp. The old producers too, in most cases, have felt the reviving effect of spring sunshine, and have quite materially increased Sacramento Con. Deal.

No word has reached here as to the option on the control of the Sacramento Con.'s stock, which was tied up for P. T. Farnsworth, but the opinion seems universal that the territory embraced in the group will, without doubt, pass to that gentleman, and the Bultion-Beck Mining company. Edward Fike, who controls the two-fifths interest in the ground which was not incorporated, is in Sait Lake now, pre-sumably on that business. Mr. Pike is also the owner of the Revenue claim, which the Dagmar-Eureka Mining c m-pany is desirous of adding to its terri-pany is desirous of sading to its tory.

The Dagmar-Eureka lies across the gulch west of the Sacramento. Some bunches of quartz have been encountered that are said to yield sensational values in gold, but nothing official has been given out.

The Dana group at the head of Dragon Hollow, east of Silver City, which in the old days furnished chloriders and leasers with very rich silver ore but a few feet under the sage brush, has passed into the hands of a strong company, and will be given a chance to show what lies beneath. It is right in the shadow of the big Dragon iron mine, which is believed to be the mother of them all in the porphyry.
